Ginkgo Lounge - Low Back Designed by Jehs+Laub

The Ginkgo line was an instant classic for Davis and continues to grow and adapt to the changing wants and needs of the contract furniture world. With the phenomenal success of both the Ginkgo chair and Ginkgo Lounge chair, Davis is introducing two new additions to the Lounge line. Ginkgo Lounge Low Back is the “in-between” chair of the Ginkgo line to the Ginkgo Lounge line. Mimicking the comfort of the Ginkgo Lounge and maintaining the natural aesthetic of the Ginkgo family, Ginkgo Lounge Low Back is the ideal small-scale lounge.

A variety of base designs are available for Ginkgo Lounge Low Back, each with their own distinct style. The Four-Prong Pedestal base mimics the Ginkgo Lounge Mid and High Back style. The Wire Base is slender and minimal, highlighting the comfortable angle of the seat. The wood base calls back to the same base of the Ginkgo chair, with the same stylistic veneer details.

The Ginkgo Lounge Low Back offers a comfortable, clean design with a small footprint. This lounge chair is more compact than most with an unmistakable look. Featuring the signature bent plywood shell; the precise and defined curves of Ginkgo Lounge Low Back deliver comfort in an inviting form. The shell is offered as a veneer shell with interior upholstery or as a fully upholstered shell.

The technology employed in manufacturing the entire Ginkgo family allows for a chair with complex curves, thin lines, and optimum strength. The Ginkgo line is trademarked by the complex and sculptural curvature of the shell—folded in ever so slightly like the leaves of a tree. Ginkgo Lounge is centered on providing optimum comfort; bringing a relaxed and residential feel with a sophisticated look for a variety of applications. Ginkgo Lounge Low Back is an exciting addition to this classic Davis line.
