FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

W&W Associates, Inc. Attending SHOTSHOW 2020 in Las Vegas, NV

Lake Zurich, IL – W&W Associates, Inc. will be displaying their products at the SHOTSHOW 2020 taking place at Sands Expo Center in Las Vegas, NV on January 21-22, 2020, and featuring woven, heat transfers, rubber and new label products for all types of manufacturers within the firearms industry.

This will be the 1st year W&W Associates, Inc. will be showing the many different applications and products they offer to manufacturers throughout the world.

“W&W Associates, Inc. has been working with outdoor and firearm manufacturers for decades in branding their products for their customers;” according to Matt Clark, company president, “we want to make sure our customers receive the highest quality labels branding their products focusing on the needs of their customers. We are excited to bring our products to the SHOTSHOW this coming year!”

W&W Associates, Inc.

We use 55+ years of industry knowledge to help clients who are frustrated with poor quality, sub-standard customer service and feeling like just another number with their current label supplier. We aren't just label order takers, we are more than your standard label supplier. We provide a full consultative approach to make sure you are feeling informed and confident about doing business with us.

We appreciate the opportunity to provide products with labels and helping grow businesses. We look forward to continuing to develop these great relationships and working to improve our partnerships for years to come.

Our goal is to provide our clients with the best option of branding their products and be that partner they can consult with new and ongoing projects.
