ICOTec offers products ranging from the beginner to the predator control specialists and government agencies. Our sales include the top selling model on Amazon several years in a row, availability in all major hunting supply and outfitter retailers in America as well as tremendous global distribution. Our industry leading remote control technology has rewritten the book when it comes to quality, reliability and accuracy. Not only is quality synonymous with our name, so is value.

The predator hunting segment is expanding at a tremendous rate. Be sure to take advantage of the fastest growing company in the predator calling industry. ICOTec electronic game calls & decoys may be used to attract coyote, bobcat, red fox, gray fox, crows, jackal, caracal, wolves, mountain lion, snow geese, moose, whitetail deer, wild turkey and many more species.

ICOTec burst onto the market with one of the top selling models of electronic predator calls in the market today. As an ICOTec dealer you can expect high inventory turns, low inventory cost and high margins when selling ICOTec equipment.
