Alien Gear Holsters Releases New Universal Grip Tuck Holster and Mag Carrier

August 19, 2019

POST FALLS, ID – Alien Gear Holsters has recently added another option for carrying inside the waistband. The all-new Grip Tuck Universal Holster allows you to conceal carry a wide variety of makes and models without needing separate holsters or shells.

Rather than needing the exact make and model of the pistol like their other holsters, the Grip Tuck Universal Holster is made to fit an entire class of firearms including many of those not listed on their website. Depending on the frame size and barrel length of your pistol, you can also use this holster for other pistols with similar specs.

“The Grip Tuck Universal Holster features a grippy, textured outer material,” says Alien Gear Holsters’ mechanical engineer, Igor Shirobokov. “This outer covering provides plenty of traction, gripping against fabric for a secure hold.”

The Grip Tuck Universal Holster features a soft inner shell made of a high-density 3M material that is comfortable to wear while also ensuring there is no trigger manipulation through the fabric. When use of a hard polymer holster is not practical, this holster provides a less rigid yet secure option, making it ideal for short outings.

There is a front slide cutout for easy insertion and draw of your pistol. This convenient feature aids in allowing for a wider range of pistol makes and models without the need of a new shell. You can also easily adjust the cant and ride height with the tool-less belt clips included with your purchase.

Alien Gear Holsters has also released a low-profile Grip Tuck Mag Carrier for those that prefer carrying their firearm and reload all at once. With the added benefit of the adjustable tool-less clips, you can customize this holster to be easily worn inside the waistband, your pocket, or anywhere you want to safely store your magazine. You can bundle and save by pairing it with the Grip Tuck Universal Holster or purchase it separately for $25.88.

The Alien Gear Holsters’ Grip Tuck Universal Holster comes backed by their Forever Warranty and 30-Day Test Drive. Order yours today for $33.88 at <http://aliengearholsters.com/>.
