

PR Contact:
Shannon Jackson
Shannon Jackson P.R.
(804) 343-3608
sjackson@shannonjacksonpr.com

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

XS Sights Announces Tritium License and Expanded Industry Capabilities

Fort Worth, TX (August 27, 2019) – XS[®] Sights is excited to announce it is now installing tritium in its own night sights and offering this service to other OEM partners within the industry. Coupled with its patent-pending Ember glow technology, XS offers the brightest night sights on the market.

Tritium installation services are available for customer-provided parts or turnkey solutions with multiple tritium options available to meet product design goals. XS is committed to maintaining a large inventory of tritium, significantly reducing lead time and inventory carrying costs to its customers.

XS offers an expanded array of manufacturing capabilities including rapid prototyping, MIM, additive manufacturing, glow technology enhancements, and automated quality control systems. XS has an on-site CNC machine shop to offer partners fast production runs with value engineering design assistance. All parts manufactured with the XS Sights logo are covered by a 10-year, no-questions-asked warranty program.

“Obtaining our licensing has been a substantial two-year project for our team,” said Kellie Brunn, Co-Owner/Radioactive Safety Officer of XS Sights. “This licensing allows us to meet our core business objectives to be THE first-choice supplier for sights.

Thank you to all our customers, vendors, and industry partners for the past 24 years! We are mindful of our past, but excited for the future and this giant leap forward towards our goal.

We look forward to providing more sight options in the future and increasing our US manufacturing capabilities. We are THE night sight company!”

For business inquiries, please reach out to our Business Development department at 888-744-4880 or tech@xsights.com.

To access our newest video, visit <https://youtu.be/R6sC7ioKzSY>

-more-

For more information on XS Sights, visit xssights.com.

About XS Sights

XS Sights is known for making the fastest sights in any light. For more than 20 years, the XS team has created some of the most innovative sights on the market today for pistols, rifles and shotguns. Whether used for personal defense or hunting, these sights are designed and built to be the absolute best for their specific purpose.

###