Lansky Sharpeners Introduces the D-Sharp

Buffalo, NY – Lansky Sharpeners, the most recognized name in knife sharpening worldwide, has added to its ever-expanding line of sharpeners with the release of the D-Sharp.

The D-Sharp completes a line of popular multi-angled pocket sharpeners that started with the QuadSharp, and was later followed by the C-Sharp. The medium 600 grit diamond V-grooves in the D-Sharp make it an excellent choice to repair damaged blades in the field, or sharpen any knife quickly on the go.

Features include:

- 4 sharpening angles (17°, 20°, 25°, and 30°)
- 800 grit ceramic Benchstone for fine polishing and serrations
- Medium 600 grit Diamond pull-through slots
- Durable metal casing
- 100% compatible with all Lansky Controlled-Angle Systems & Turn Boxes

“We’re excited to provide our customers with another abrasive to choose from in our quad-angled pocket sharpener line,” said Deanna DiLorenzo, Marketing Manager at Lansky Sharpeners. “With the introduction of the D-Sharp, consumers now have three abrasive options in this popular line: the Quadsharp if they want carbide, the C-Sharp if they prefer an all-ceramic option, and now the diamond D-Sharp.”

The D-Sharp will be available to consumers for purchase in February, 2020.
